

We are delighted to present the reader with this volume of studies devoted to the history of Galician towns at the turn of the nineteenth century. The papers are the results of research carried out as part of the project „At the meeting points of cultures and nations. Galician towns and small towns in the Josephinian Cadastral Survey”, funded by the National Science Centre (the Harmonia 8 programme).