

Table of contents

Jerzy Malinowski, The centenary of diplomatic relations between Poland and Japan

Magdalena Durda-Dmitruk Jikihitsu, The Signature of the Artist

Anna Katarzyna Maleszko, What does the East mean to the West? On our inspirational get-togethers

Shigemi Inaga, Utsushi and Utsuroi: Imprint and Transience

Yuko Nakama, Nature and humans: Physical reality in Japanese aesthetics. Reconsidering the pictorial spaces of Hokusai and teamLab

Magdalena Janota-Bzowska, Sign of the Artist, the Artistic Sign: The Autonomy of the Artist's Signature

Anna Dzierżyc-Horniak, What one needs is concentration, inner silence, a willingness to listen Koji Kamoji in Artistic Dialogue with Polish Artists

Joanna Zakrzewska, The Influence of Japanese Calligraphy and Ink Painting on Contemporary Polish Artists

Magdalena Durda-Dmitruk, Fragment of the whole: Traces of Japanese aesthetics in the silk works of selected contemporary Polish artists

Magdalena Furmanik-Kowalska, European fairy tales and kawaii aesthetics in the photography of Ewa Doroszenko

Tomasz Rudomino, The Japanese Avant-garde: from Michel Tapié to GUTAI and Hori Kōsai

Jerzy Uścińowicz, The New Temple of Saint Nicholas of Japan at the Kamennaya Gorka in Minsk, Belarus. The Near Tradition of the Far East

Radosław Predygier, The Polish Trail in Okayama: The Polish Art and Science Mission in Japan

Kazuhiro Korenaga, To Connect Region and People through Art

Katarzyna Nowak, Japan's Living National Treasures and their exceptional presence at the Manggha Museum of Japanese Art and Technology

Rina Matsudaira, Inspired by the Classics of East Asia. Searching for a meeting place of narratives and paintings

Akiko Kasuya, Celebration: Between the Aesthetic and the Critical Yoko Nakata 20 years of the BIWAKO Biennale

Yasuyuki Saegusa, Artists in residence in Kumamoto Prefecture 2010–2018

Agnieszka Rożnowska, Mono no aware: Memories of Kyushu

Paweł Jasiewicz, Every Timber Has Its Own Sound – Every House Has Its Song

Małgorzata Niespodziewana-Rados, Exercises in Mindfulness: My Japanese Experience in Creative Work

Joanna Stasiak, Immersed in Seeing

Elżbieta Banecka, Uncombed from Kyoto

Atsushi Hosoi, A report on the progress, development and background of the work of young Japanese wood sculptors today. And about my own work

Gabriela Morawetz, Permeation / Image and Movement / Collaboration with the Tarinainanika Duet at the Biwako Biennale

Joanna Sitkowska-Bayle, Meetings with Japan: The works of Aliska Lahusen and Gabriela Morawetz

Przemysław Radwański, The Artist's Craft as Meditation: Zen Practice and the Creative Process

Magdalena Durda-Dmitruk, A few words after the conference and the accompanying events